Judgement

1. This appeal by the revenue u/s 260A of the Income Tax Act ("the Act") is filed against the order dated 13/8/2009 of the Income Tax Appellate Tribunal ("the Tribunal") in ITA No. 3323/Mum./2008 relating to assessment year 2004-05. Being aggrieved, the revenue has formulated the following questions of law for consideration of this Court.

(a) Whether on the facts and in the circumstances of the case and in law the Tribunal was justified in holding that the benefit of cessation of liability to repay a loan liability is not taxable u/s. 41(1) of the Income Tax Act?

(b) Whether on the facts and in the circumstances of the case and in law the Tribunal was justified in holding that the benefit of cessation of liability to repay a loan liability is not taxable u/s. 28(iv) of the Income Tax Act?

2. On 31/10/2004, the respondent-assessee filed its return of income for the assessment year 2004-05 declaring a total income of Rs. 98.23 lacs. During the course of assessment proceedings it was found that the respondent-assessee had entered into an agreement with its holding company one M/s. Vossloh Schwabe (India) Private Ltd. (holding company) by virtue of which the liability to pay a loan of Rs. 29.17 lacs taken towards the purchase of a car was taken over by the holding company. The motor car for which the loan was taken continued to be a part of the schedule of assets of the respondent-assessee and depreciation thereon was also claimed. The Assessing officer by an order dated 22/12/2006 u/s 143(3) of the Act added back an amount of Rs. 29.17 lacs to the income of the respondent-assessee as being taxable u/s 41(1) of the Act.

3. The Commissioner of Income Tax (Appeals) by an order dated 31/10/2008 allowed the respondent-assessee's appeal. The Commissioner of Income Tax (Appeals) held that the liability to repay a loan taken towards the purchase of a motor car which had ceased cannot be subjected to tax. This is for the reason that the extinguishment of the loan which was taken for the purchase of a capital asset like a motor car is not a revenue receipt. Hence, the same is not taxable.

4. The appeal by the revenue to the Tribunal on the aforesaid issue was dismissed by an order dated 13/8/2009. The Tribunal held that the cessation of liability to repay a loan taken to purchase a capital asset does not result in a revenue receipt. Further, the amount of Rs. 29.17 lacs was not taxable u/s 41(1) of the Act as the same was not an expenditure incurred in the earlier years. The issue according to the Tribunal was covered in favour of the respondent-assessee by a decision of this Court in the matter of Mahindra and Mahindra Ltd. Vs. Commissioner of Income Tax, . Consequently, the Tribunal held that amount of Rs. 29.17 lacs is not taxable either u/s 41(1) or 28(iv) of the Act.

5. In support of the appeal, Mr. Vimal Gupta, the learned Counsel for the revenue contends that the decision in the matter of Mahindra and Mahindra Limited (supra) would not be applicable in view of the subsequent decision of this Court in the matter of Solid Containers Ltd. Vs. The Deputy Commissioner of Income Tax, Spl. Range I and The Commissioner of IncomeTax I, . In the above case, this Court has distinguished the decision rendered in the matter of Mahindra and Mahindra Limited (supra) and held that waiver of loan taken for trading activity would become the assessee's income and be subject to tax. Alternatively, Mr. Gupta submits that the loan amount written off would be taxable u/s 28(iv) of the Act as a benefit arising from business.

6. As against the above, Mr. Pardiwalla, Counsel for the respondent-assessee submits that the issue arising in this appeal would stand covered by the decision of this Court in the matter of Mahindra & Mahindra Ltd. (supra). According to him, the decision of this Court in the matter of Solid Containers (supra) is not applicable as in that case the loan was taken for business purposes and not for purchase of a capital asset as in this case. So far as the alternative submission is concerned, Mr. Pardiwalla submits that Section 28(iv) of the Act would not apply to any benefit received in cash or money as in this case. This issue according to Mr. Pardiwalla is also covered by the decision of this Court in the matter of Mahindra & Mahindra Ltd. (supra). Therefore, he submits that the appeal should not be entertained.

7. We have considered the submissions. The issue arising in this case stand covered by the decision of this Court in the matter of Mahindra & Mahindra (supra). The decision of this court in the matter of Solid Containers (supra) is on completely different facts and inapplicable to this case. In the matter of Solid Containers (supra) the assessee therein had taken a loan for business purpose. In view of the consent terms arrived at, the amount of loan taken was waived by the lender. The case of the assessee therein was that the loan was a capital receipt and has not been claimed as deduction from the taxable income in the earlier years and would not come within the purview of Section 41(1) of the Act. However, this Court by placing reliance upon the decision of the Apex Court in the matter of Commissioner of Income Tax, Madurai Vs. T.V. Sundaram Iyengar and Sons Ltd., held that the loan was received by the assessee for carrying on its business and therefore, not a loan taken for the purchase of capital assets. Consequently, the decision of this Court in the matter of Mahindra and Mahindra Limited (supra) was distinguished as in the said case the loan was taken for the purchase of capital assets and not for trading activities as in the case of Solid Containers Limited (supra). In view of the above, the decision of this Court in the matter of Solid containers Limited (supra) will have no application to the facts of the present case and the matter stands covered by the decision of this Court in the matter of Mahindra & Mahindra Limited (supra). The alternative submission that the amount of loan written off would be taxable u/s 28(iv) of the Act also came up for consideration before this Court in the matter of Mahindra & Mahindra Limited (supra) and it was held therein that Section 28(iv) of the Act would apply only when a benefit or perquisite is received in kind and has no application where benefit is received in cash or money.

8. In view of the issue arising in this appeal being covered by the decision of this Court in the matter of Mahindra & Mahindra Ltd. (supra), no substantial question of law arises and both the questions are dismissed. The appeal is dismissed. No order as to costs.
