3. Learned advocate for the applicant on instructions states that the applicant is ready and willing to abide by all the conditions including imposition of conditions with regard to powers of Investigating Agency to file an application before the competent Court for his remand. He further submit that upon filing of such application by the Investigating Agency, the right of applicant accused to oppose such application on merits may be kept open. Learned advocate, therefore, submits that considering the above facts, the applicant may be granted anticipatory bail.

4. Learned Additional Public Prosecutor appearing on behalf of the respondent – State has opposed grant of anticipatory bail looking to the nature and gravity of the offence.

5. Having heard the learned advocates for the parties and perusing the material placed on record and taking into consideration the facts of the case, nature of allegations, gravity of offences, role attributed to the accused, without discussing the evidence in detail, at this stage, I am inclined to grant anticipatory bail to the applicant.

6. This Court has considered following aspects,

(i) even as per the FIR, the applicant is not the one with whom the wife of the complainant was having affair;

(ii) the wife of the complainant at present is not residing with the present applicant and even during the course of investigation it was found that role of the present applicant was limited to the extent of giving lift to the wife of the complainant dropping her to the accused no.1 with whom at present she is residing as stated by learned advocate Mr.Mulani;

(iii) it is true that the present applicant, as per FIR, has demanded Rs.6,000/- to aforesaid aspect is matter of evidence;

(iv) no past antecedent is attributed to the present applicant;

(v) applicant is ready and willing to participate and cooperate with the investigation.

7. In the facts and circumstances of the present case, since the custodial interrogation of the applicant is not required, I am inclined to consider the case of the applicant.

8. This Court has also taken into consideration the law laid down by the Hon'ble Apex Court in the case of Siddharam Satlingappa Mhetre Vs. State of Maharashtra and Ors., reported at [2011] 1 SCC 694, wherein the Hon'ble Apex Court reiterated the law laid down by the Constitution Bench in the case of Shri Gurubaksh Singh Sibbia & Ors. Vs. State of Punjab, reported at (1980) 2 SCC 565.

9. In the result, the present application is allowed.

The applicant is ordered to be released on bail in the event of arrest in connection with FIR being No.11217027220851 of 2022 registered with Radhanpur Police Station, Patan on executing a personal bond of Rs.10,000/- (Rupees Ten Thousand Only) with one surety of like amount on the following

The applicant shall remain present before the learned Magistrate on the first date of hearing of such application and on all subsequent occasions, as may be directed by the learned Magistrate. This would be sufficient to treat the accused in the judicial custody for the purpose of entertaining application of the prosecution for police remand. This is, however, without prejudice to the right of the accused to seek stay against an order of remand, if, ultimately, granted, and the power of the learned Magistrate to consider such a request in accordance with law. It is clarified that the applicant, even if, remanded to the police custody, upon completion of such period of police remand, shall be set free immediately, subject to other conditions of this anticipatory bail order.
