

(2020) 08 PAT CK 0070

In the Patna High Court

Case No : Civil Writ Jurisdiction Case No. 14465 Of 2018

Union Of India And Ors

APPELLANT

Vs

Mahesh Prasad Mandal

RESPONDENT

Date of Decision : 28-08-2020

Acts Referred:

Citation : (2020) 08 PAT CK 0070

Hon'ble Judges : Sanjay Karol, CJ;S. Kumar, J

Bench : Division Bench

Advocate : Rajesh Kumar Verma

Final Decision : Dismissed

Judgement

Heard the parties.

Petitioner has prayed for following relief:-

That the present writ application is being filed on behalf of petitioners for quashing the order dated 15.12.2017 passed in O.A. No. 050/00153/2017

(Mahesh Prasad Mandal Vs. the Union of India & Ors.) passed by the Central Administrative Tribunal, Patna Bench, whereby and whereunder the CAT, Patna Bench has held that the benefits of PPF and old pension scheme would be applicable to all prior to 01.01.2004 even if they have been regularized on or after 01.01.2004, consequently disposed of the application with direction upon the respondents to grant to the present applicant the benefit of the decision referred to hereinabove.

Briefly stated the facts of the case is that respondent was initially appointed as Extra Departmental Branch Postmaster at Bhramarpur BO in Bhagalpur postal division on 04.05.1974, where he served as Extra Departmental Branch Postmaster for about 31 years 3 months and 4 days and after getting promotion in postman cadre he joined in the departmental cadre on 26.04.2005 as a regular employee and retired on 30.12.2015 and his total length of service in the departmental cadre as Postman was counted as 10 years 07 months and 19 days. His pension was fixed as per New Pension Scheme which was made effective from 01.01.2004.

It was submitted before the Tribunal that respondent was promoted as postman on 26.04.2005 but same was against the vacancy of 2003 as such his service ought to have been counted from 2003 itself and respondent is entitled for pensionary benefit under Old Pension Scheme.

Issue before the Tribunal was whether the applicant who was appointed in regular cadre by way of promotion after 01.01.2004 would be governed by Old Pension Scheme or New Pension Scheme which was made effective from 01.01.2004.

Respondent has entered in service in postal department as extra departmental employee on 04.05.1974 in Bhagalpur, Postal Division. Extra departmental employees form a separate cadre and are governed by separate service conditions and recruitment rules. They are not the regular employees of the postal department. They are brought in the regular cadre of postal department by way of promotion for which 25 % of the Group D /

Postman vacancies are filled up by promotion from extra departmental staff cadre, which is conducted by the departmental promotion committee. In order to qualify for such promotion, extra departmental employee has to serve the department for a specified period.

New pension scheme which was made effective from 01.01.2004 is applicable to the central government employees, who entered into the service of the central government after 01.01.2004. Respondent entered into the service of central government on 04.05.1974 although not as a regular employee but as extra departmental employee and thereafter was promoted in the regular establishment on 26.04.2005 after his name was recommended by the D.P.C. against 2003 vacancies as such his entry in central government cannot be said to be after 01.01.2004. Many benefits for which regular central government employees are entitled are extended to extra departmental employee as well. However, qualifying service for grant of pension will be service rendered as regular postman.

A Division Bench of this court in C.W.J.C No.17204 of 2015 while considering the issue of New Pension Scheme vis a vis Old Pension Scheme with respect to employees who are not serving as regular employees in the department in para no. 4 has held as following:

4. The Tribunal, noticing the Full Bench judgment as well as the judgment of the Karnataka High Court in this regard in favour of the employees, held that they would be covered by the Old Pension Scheme. To us, the problem is simple. The new Pension Scheme would apply to persons coming in Government Service after 01.01.2004. The applicants before the Tribunal were first casual labourers, but with effect from 1989 they acquired the temporary status or the status of a temporary employee of the Government in the Department of Posts. After three years of such continuous service, they were entitled to certain benefits, which a permanent Group-D employee gets. They were receiving the same, pending confirmation in service as a permanent employee. Towards pensionary benefits, G.P.F. deductions were made.

Then came cut-off date as 01.01.2004. In the meantime, the vacancies having occurred in the year 2011, they were substantially appointed as permanent employees. They were regularized as permanent employees. To us, the answer would be evident from the fact that they were already in service prior to 01.01.2004, though in a temporary status. To us, it appears that the meaning of the Scheme, which puts the cut-off date as 01.01.2004 is that all those persons, who have come in service after 01.01.2004 would be covered by the New Pension Scheme. As noted and stated above, the applicants before the Tribunal, the respondents herein, were already in service, though in temporary status prior to the cut-off date. To them, this cutoff date would not apply, and consequently they would be deemed to be in service on 01.01.2004 having been confirmed as permanent employees in Group-D with effect from 2011. Thus, we find no error in this judgment and order of the Tribunal.

The Central Administrative Tribunal on the basis of several judgments pronounced by Tribunal as well as High Court and relying upon different circulars issued by the central government has held that respondent is entitled for benefit under the old pension scheme.

After hearing counsel for the parties and perusing the judgment and order passed by the Central Administrative Tribunal, this Court does not find any error or infirmity in the order passed by the Central Administrative Tribunal, Patna Bench Patna, requiring any interference of this court in its writ jurisdiction and accordingly writ petition is dismissed.